From The Program Chair

On behalf of the ASHNR, I invite you to join us in Seattle for the 48th Annual Meeting, "Head and Neck Imaging- Current and Future". I am tremendously honored to serve as the ASHNR Program Chair and it is my pleasure to welcome you to join us in Seattle on September 10-14, 2014.

This year's meeting will cover every facet of Head and Neck Imaging. The meeting is full of outstanding educational lectures. Speakers will provide content-rich, clinically relevant materials on head and neck anatomy, nodal metastases, head and neck cancer staging, cranial nerve imaging, sinonasal imaging, and skull base imaging. As usual, the meeting will begin with the Early Bird Temporal Bone session on Wednesday morning September 10. Pediatric head and neck will be covered throughout the Annual Meeting. We have a new session on "Controversy in Head and Neck Imaging" on the topic of parathyroid imaging, as well as surveillance imaging for head and neck cancer patients.

As in the past, we will offer 3 SAM sessions where you can earn SAM credits toward your MOC. A highlight of the Annual Meeting, The Game Show, will be featured again on Thursday afternoon September 11. The 2013 Hanafee Award presentation is on Wednesday afternoon, which I hope will inspire you to contribute more to the ASHNR Core Curriculum Fund to support research in Head and Neck Imaging.

Seattle is a charming and vibrant city in the Pacific Northwest, surrounded by Puget Sound, the Cascade and Olympic Mountains, and Lake Washington and Lake Union. It is a very family friendly city and offers many attractions including, the Space Needle, EMP Museum, Seattle Art Museum, and Seattle Aquarium. You may also cruise throughout Puget Sound, Lake Union or Lake Washington on a tour boat. We invite you to come early or stay through the weekend to extend your trip to San Juan or Orcas Island, Mt. Rainer or Mt. St. Helens, which may be reachable by car or ferry. Seattle offers an amazing quality of seafood, and has a bustling restaurant scene. It is a relaxing and peaceful town.

My first ASHNR meeting was in New Orleans in 1990. Ever since, ASHNR has been a very special organization to me not only professionally but also personally. I have been fortunate to meet many amazing and talented head and neck radiologists through ASHNR.

I sincerely hope that you will attend the ASHNR 48th Annual Meeting. It will be a wonderful educational meeting where you will learn a lot about practical head and neck imaging and enjoy heart-warming friendship and social networking.

Accreditation

Physicians: This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essential Areas and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education through the joint sponsorship of Educational Symposia and the American Society of Head & Neck Radiology. Educational Symposia is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Educational Symposia designates this live activity for a maximum of 29.25 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™, including 1.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™ for the Early Bird Temporal Bone Session. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Certain sessions of the meeting program will be submitted to the ABR for SAM qualification. The number of SAM credits will be available approximately 21 days prior to the meeting.

Technologists: This program has been submitted to the ASRT. The number of Category A CE credits will be available approximately 30 days prior to the meeting. Please visit www.edusymp.com or call 1-800-338-5901 regarding the availability of Category A CE credit.

Target Audience

• General radiologists seeking to improve their understanding and skills in head and neck imaging.
• Radiologists with neuroradiology training or an interest in head and neck imaging who wish to increase their knowledge of imaging and treatment of head and neck pathology.
• Dental and oral-maxillofacial practitioners with an interest in pathology and imaging of the jaws and adjacent soft tissues.
• Non radiologists, including ENT physicians, head and neck surgeons, medical and radiation oncologists, or general surgeons, who are interested in head and neck cancer therapy and diagnosis.
• Allied health professionals, including physician assistants, nurses, nurse practitioners and radiology technologists with an interest in head and neck cancer or head and neck imaging.
• Physicians in training, residents and fellows pursuing careers in radiology, otolaryngology, and treatment of head and neck cancer.
Educational Objectives
Attendees should, at the completion of this meeting, be able to:

• Identify the anatomy of temporal bone, skull base, suprathyroid neck, and infrahyoid neck.
• Describe the lymphatic drainage and patterns of metastases.
• Review imaging features of nodal metastases.
• Review the anatomy of cranial nerves and clinical presentation of various pathologies affecting cranial nerves.
• Identify the imaging features and clinical significance of perineural tumor spread.
• Describe the common infectious and inflammatory process that involve the sinonasal region.
• Apply imaging techniques to address CSF leak and surgeons’ perspective for minimally invasive CSF leak repair.
• Discuss the various image-guided head and neck biopsy techniques.
• Describe the clinical applications and indications of perfusion and diffusion imaging of head and neck tumor.
• Determine the best imaging technique for staging of head and neck cancer.
• Review current strategies for dose reduction for CT examination for head and neck.
• Discuss the benefit and limitations of PET/CT imaging for head and neck cancer.
• Recognize imaging features of various developmental and odontogenic maxillofacial lesions.
• Evaluate emergent head and neck pathology.

No special educational preparation is required for this CME activity.

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS
CALL FOR ABSTRACTS for both Scientific Papers (oral) and Educational Exhibits (posters), including information, instructions and forms, are available on our website (www.ashnr.org). Deadline for submissions is Friday, July 18, 2014.

Special Note for the Disabled
Educational Symposia (ESI) and the American Society of Head & Neck Radiology wish to ensure that no individual with a disability is excluded, denied services, segregated or otherwise treated differently from other individuals because of the absence of auxiliary aids and services. If you need any auxiliary aids or services identified in the Americans with Disabilities Act, please contact ESI at (800) 338-5901 or (813) 806-1000.
